

Clinical Studies

Select Monosodium Luminol Clinical Studies in Immunology and Inflammation

- Using the immunomodulator Monosodium Luminol in the plan for the integrated treatment of recurrent aphthous stomatitis
- Efficiency of Monosodium Luminol in prevention and treatment of purulent inflammatory complications after abdominal surgical pathology
- Monosodium Luminol in the treatment of uveitis with unclear and viral etiology
- Integrated management of limited scleroderma
- Immunocorrection using Monosodium Luminol with destructive pancreatitis
- Experience of Monosodium Luminol in the post-operative period in the treatment of purulent-septic complications
- Experience of Monosodium Luminol in gynecological patients with purulent inflammatory diseases of the pelvic organs
- Immunomodulating therapy in a rehabilitation program in patients with chronic endometriosis