

Helping Veterans suffering from Gulf War Illness through our drug development and research program

What is Gulf War Illness (GWI) and its related conditions?

GWI Afflicts approximately 200,000 veterans who served in Persian Gulf War

GWI is a chronic, multi-symptom health problem that has gone untreated

Involves brain dysfunction, fatigue, muscle pain, cognitive problems, memory loss, mood swings, depression and anxiety

GWI is caused by multiple chemical exposures

GWI often leads to:

ALS

Parkinson's disease

GWI can advance:

Multiple Sclerosis

Huntington's disease

Glaucoma

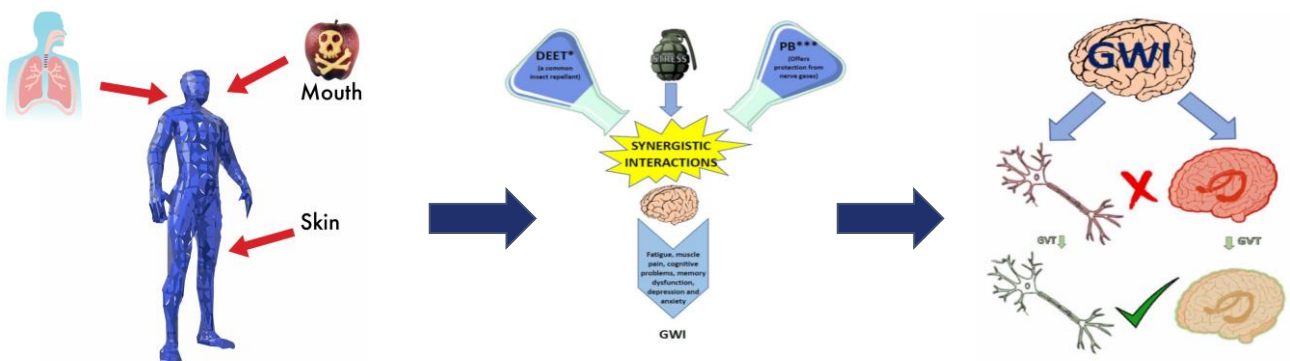

How did Veterans contract GWI?

GWI results from multiple chemicals that enter the body through the nose, mouth and skin

From where? Anti nerve gas "vaccine", clothing saturated with chemicals such as DEET, tents treated with Permethrin, and pollution from burning oil fields

DEET (An insect repellent) PB (designed for protection from nerve gasses) and overwhelming amounts of mental stress create reactions in the brain that lead to the common symptoms of GWI.

How do we treat GWI?

GWI, ALS, Alzheimers and Parkinsons all have one thing in common: oxidative stress.

When oxidative stress happens in the brain, the brain protects itself with inflammation.

This inflammation prevents the neurons in the brain from functioning and reproducing properly.

Bach Pharma has proven products that reduce this inflammation, thus allowing the brain to repair itself and restore normal functionality.

What's Next?

The Longevity Foundation & Bach Pharma are committed to the continued development of drugs to start helping Veterans today.

The next step is to obtain an IND (Investigational New Drug) status from the FDA. This will allow us to begin Phase 1 - the next round of testing specifically for GWI patients.

Once Phase 1 is complete, we can partner with larger Pharma companies to begin helping Veterans who are suffering NOW from GWI.

At The Longevity Foundation and Bach Pharma, we believe that Veterans should have the same quality of life after their service time as the general population. GVT will give those suffering from GWI their quality of life back.

Get Involved

Current Veterans can help us reach our goal of helping other veterans who are suffering the effects of GWI.

We are always looking for shareholders to invest in our vision, but more importantly, share in our belief and dedication to our veterans.

Are you, or someone you know suffering the effects of GWI? We want to talk to you. The more information we have, the more we can help.

Help us share our message by inviting us to your Veteran, Military, and other organizational meetings. By helping us get the word out, we can reach our goals more quickly.

We are looking for Veteran spokespeople and advocates. YOUR voice can help us increase funding, research and attention to a disease that is affecting hundreds of thousands of Veterans today.
